

STATES OF INCARCERATION

A NATIONAL DIALOGUE
OF LOCAL HISTORIES

THE ORIGINS OF THE PENITENTIARY

Bradley Chapin, "Felony Law Reform in the Early Republic," The Pennsylvania Magazine of History and Biography Vol. CXIII No. 2 (April, 1989).

David Garland, Punishment and Modern Society: A Study in Social Theory (Introduction and Ch. 1).

David J. Rothman, The Discovery of the Asylum; Social Order and Disorder in the New Republic (Ch. 1).

Jennifer Graber, Furnace of Affliction: Prisoners and Religion in Antebellum America (Introduction; Ch. 1-2).

Michel Meranze, Laboratories of Virtue: Punishment, Revolution, and Authority in Philadelphia, 1760-1835 (Introduction; Ch. 1, 4, and 5).

Seth Bruggeman, "Reforming the Carceral Past: Eastern State Penitentiary and the Challenge of Twenty-First Century Prison Museums," Radical History Review 113 (Spring 2012): 171-86.

Film: The House I Live In, directed by Eugene Jarecki (2012)